Kickin' It Indoors Rules

These rules are a simplified version of the US Indoor Soccer Association Rules. We have eliminated rules and procedures which might over-complicate the game for youth players (eg. blue disciplinary cards,time-out penalties, three line violations, shootouts). Unless stated, regular outdoor soccer rules apply (eg. definition of direct/indirect free kicks, fouls etc.). Indoor soccer is fast paced. Players are required to put the ball into play within five seconds of any stoppage (excluding kick offs). Cleats are not allowed indoor shoes or sneakers only. Shin guards are required. Indoor approved balls will be provided.

Out of play infringements - the ball is considered out of play if it hits the netting above the side wall, above the end wall or above the field. The restarts are:

Side wall	Kick-in (not throw) from touch line
End wall	Throw in by goalkeeper or corner kick by opposing team
Field	Direct free kick

For fouls within the arc, the restarts are:

If the foul is committed by the defending team	Free kick from the mark at the top of the arc. Outfield players must be behind the ball by at least 5 yards.
If the foul is committed by the attacking team	Free kick from any point within the arc

Goalkeeper

The goalkeeper may not retain possession of the ball (hand or foot) for more than 5 seconds within his/her arc.

The goalkeeper may not pick up the gall after he/she brings it into the arc.

The goalkeeper may not bounce the ball or throw it in the air and then regain possession.

For infringements of any of the above three points the restart is an indirect free kick.

General

Players may not be pushed on to the side or end walls of the field (direct free kick).

A goal may be socred from any restart (goalkeeper throw, direct free kick, kick in and kick off) but may not be scored from an indirect free kick.

A player who is inside the other team's arc, may not receive the ball played by a team mate who is outside the arc (indirect free kick).

Players may travel through the arc with the ball.

A team may offer the opposing team the loan of players if one is short. There is no player pass to bring in other players.

This is a for-fun event with no league standings. Enjoy.
